

Storyboard Assignment

Storyboards are like comic strips without words. Each scene is shown separately in the order in which it happens.

Make a storyboard of 4 to 8 scenes showing a family leaving their country arriving in Canada and going through the steps of becoming Canadian citizens.

Think about what happens first, next and so on and draw sketches depicting each event. Write a caption for each scene describing what is happening using sequence words (first, second, next, subsequently, following).
