

Fact vs. Opinion

Oliver

One way we determine if something is factual or opinion, is by looking at the words used. Fact is something that is true all of the time (you can't dispute). Opinion is a belief or view that someone has.

Look at the words in the Word Bank below and sort them into the appropriate columns:

Fact Words	Opinion Words
This video demonstrates A according to the results... John claims This proves Gandhi said	I think... My view is... The best decision she argues

Word Bank:

- ✓ This video demonstrates...
- I think...
- My view is...
- ✓ According to the results...
- ✓ The best decision...
- ✓ She argues...
- John claims...
- ✓ This proves...
- Gandhi said. "...."

Write one sentence about ice cream using one of the opinion words above:

I think chocolate ice creams are good

Write one sentence about ice cream using one of the fact words above:

Gandhi said "This ice cream is cold"