The Ontario Teachers' Federation

The Ontario Teachers' Federation (OTF) was set up by the Teaching Profession Act of 1944 as the professional organization for teachers in the province. All teachers (as defined in the Teaching Profession Act) are required by law to belong to the Federation as a condition of teaching in the publicly funded schools of Ontario. The four teacher Affiliates (L'Association des enseignantes et des enseignants franco-ontariens, the Elementary Teachers' Federation of Ontario, the Ontario English Catholic Teachers' Association, and the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation) are affiliated with OTF.

Most of the Affiliates had formed voluntary teacher organizations 20 years before the Teaching Profession Act was passed in 1944. Teachers recognized the need for a Federation which would be acknowledged by provincial authorities as the professional association of all teachers in the province. At the teachers' requests, the Teaching Profession Act was passed.

Organization

In June 1944, following the passing of the Act, elected representatives of the Affiliates met to organize the Federation and to prepare the Regulation to be set up under the Teaching Profession Act. It was agreed that the former voluntary organizations should retain their individual autonomy within the new Federation. Each Affiliate works within its own constitution and sends representatives to the OTF Board of Governors, which is the governing body of the Federation.

Board of Governors

A Board of Governors of 40 members deals with matters that affect all the teachers in the province. The Board of Governors meets at least three times a year; the Federation Executive, consisting of 12 members elected by the Board of Governors and the Secretary-Treasurer, meets 10 times a year.

Representation

The Ontario Teachers' Federation is the official liaison between the teachers of the province and the Minister of Education.

Representatives of OTF meet with officials of the Ministry of Education on a regular basis to discuss matters of an educational or professional nature.

OTF names representatives to committees set up by the Ministry of Education and other educational organizations.

OTF is a member of the Canadian Teachers' Federation (CTF) and sends representatives to national, international and provincial educational conferences.

Committees

Standing committees are named in the bylaws and are made up of one teacher from each of the affiliated bodies. The committees report to the Board of Governors, where their recommendations may be approved or rejected, referred back to the committee for further study, or referred to the affiliated bodies for their approval before final acceptance by OTF.

Other special committees and work groups are appointed from time to time by the Board of Governors and the Executive, as the work of the Federation requires. These committees and work groups have at least one representative from each Affiliate.

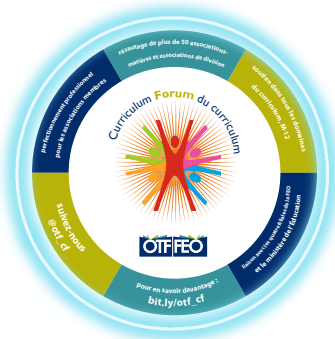

OTF Fee

The work of the Ontario Teachers' Federation is supported entirely by the members' Federation fees. The Board of Governors approves the OTF fee and the CTF fee is approved at the Annual General Meeting of CTF.

The Affiliates collect both their own fee and the OTF fee. The OTF fee is then forwarded on a scheduled basis by the Affiliates to OTF. The OTF Affiliate fee to CTF is paid only on behalf of Affiliates who are members of CTF.

OTF Curriculum Forum

The OTF Curriculum Forum was created to provide an avenue for professional interaction among the independent Subject, Division and Special Interest Associations and between the Associations and OTF. It also provides a liaison between the Associations and the Ministry of Education. Members of the Forum usually meet three times during the school year.

Members of the Forum are OTF, the four Affiliates of OTF and some 50 Associations. Established Associations may apply to the OTF Executive to become members of the Forum.

OTF Communications

OTF communicates with the membership and the public in several ways. OTF's Interaction is published online four times per year. Communiqués are issued on pension and other matters of importance. There are two subscribed email lists for communications with members and others: OTFNews and OTFLearning.

OTF website: otffeo.on.ca. As well, OTF has several other websites focused on specific issues of importance to teachers.

OTF's Facebook page: www.facebook.com/otffeo
 YouTube: bit.ly/OTFFEOyoutube

Also, OTF has three Twitter accounts:
 @otffeo, @OTFpresFEO and @otf_pd

OTF Fellowship

The OTF Fellowship was inaugurated in 1964 to commemorate OTF's 20th anniversary. The first award was presented to The Hon. George A. Drew, who was Premier and Minister of Education when OTF was established under the Teaching Profession Act. Fellowships are awarded for outstanding service to education and/or to the Federation. Each year, one fellowship may be awarded to a non-member.

Blanche E. Snell Estate Fund

This fund is administered by the OTF International Assistance Committee. It assists foreign students or educators who are temporarily studying or teaching in Ontario with grants to enhance their educational experience in Canada through related travel-study and professional development. Recipients must be citizens of a developing country and must be planning to return to that country to work in education. In certain circumstances, grants may be awarded to help cover basic expenses such as tuition fees, texts and accommodations. The number of grants and their size vary.

OTF Special Recognition Award

The OTF Special Recognition Award will be presented annually to an organization, group or individual in acknowledgement of outstanding contributions to publicly funded education in Ontario, beyond the school board level.

The efforts of the individual, group or organization must have the goal of improving publicly funded education in Ontario. The nominee's contributions may be at the local or provincial level and must have been sustained over an extended period of time.

OTIP Teaching Awards

OTF and the Ontario Teachers Insurance Plan (OTIP) sponsor the OTIP Teaching Awards which recognize and celebrate teachers who make a difference ... teachers who light a spark in students, inspire their colleagues and give parents confidence. Three awards are presented each year to outstanding teachers in the categories of elementary, secondary and beginning teacher.

International Assistance

Each year, OTF's International Assistance Fund provides support to small, locally initiated educational projects, undertaken by teacher organizations, schools, and other groups in developing countries. The fund is administered by a committee of teachers, representing each of OTF's Affiliates. Among the supported projects each year is at least one project initiated by the Canadian Organization for Development through Education (CODE), and several projects funded under the auspices of the Canadian Teachers' Federation (CTF). The International Assistance Fund is financed through the OTF's membership fee. The fund has been in existence for over 50 years now.

Pensions

The Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan (OTPP) is a partnership between the Ontario Teachers' Federation and the Government of Ontario. Before 1989, the Teachers' Superannuation Fund was entirely under the control of the Government of Ontario. In 1989, the Teachers' Superannuation Fund was set up as a separate corporation, the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan (OTPP). In 1991, the Ontario legislature passed the Teachers' Pension Act which reformed the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan into a partnership between OTF and the Government.

OTF and the Government each appoint five members to the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board. They jointly name the Chair.

The Partners' Committee is the means by which the Partners—the Government and the OTF Executive—meet to fulfill their responsibilities to the Pension Plan. Tripartite groups with representatives from the Plan, OTF and the Government, including the Partners' Consultative Committee and the Communications Work Group, meet at least quarterly.

Since the OTPP is a partnership between teachers and the Government, both partners share the assets and the liabilities experienced by the plan.

This means that, when the investments of the Pension Fund do well and the Plan has an actuarial gain, the Partners negotiate how these gains are spent. If the investments do poorly, the Partners have to share in the responsibility of making up the shortfall. OTF is the bargaining agent, on behalf of all members of the Plan in these decisions.

OTF Affiliated Federations and Associations

With the passing of the Teaching Profession Act in 1944, Ontario's four teacher federations became the affiliated bodies of the Ontario Teachers' Federation. They remain, as far as possible, autonomous bodies, working under their own constitutions. Every member of the Ontario Teachers' Federation is a member of one of these Affiliates, and it is by and through the Affiliates that nearly all matters that concern the individual member are handled. Each Affiliate provides a broad range of services such as contract negotiations, sick benefits, legal advice, and publications, for its members. Following is an outline of the organization of each of the Affiliates and the services it provides.

Association des enseignantes et des enseignants franco-ontariens (AEFO)

The Association des enseignantes et des enseignants franco-ontariens is a French-language labour organization dedicated to defending and promoting the professional and economic interests of its members. It also provides social leadership that promotes the development of the Francophone community.

Vision

Members recognize the positive influence of AEFO on their professional development, their working environment and their well-being. AEFO is an agent of change which contributes to building an inclusive, just and equitable society, as well as ensuring the sustainability of French language education in Ontario.

Values

AEFO's organizational values are equity, transparency, solidarity, inclusivity and engagement. These values guide the union's decisions and activities.

Provincial organization

Annual meeting: The main purposes of the annual meeting are to

- receive the AEFO's activity report;
- receive the Association's financial statements;
- select the accounting firm responsible for auditing the AEFO's financial statements;
- elect the members of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee and those who represent AEFO at OTF; and
- establish and amend the articles of association and the by-laws.

Roughly 170 delegated members attend the annual meeting and have the right to participate in discussion and to vote. All AEFO members have consultative capacity at the annual meeting.

Board of Directors: The AEFO Board of Directors is composed of 21 individuals, namely

- the members of the Executive Committee,
- one director for each of the AEFO's local units, and
- the person in the general secretary position and treasurer position (non-voting).

The Board of Directors meets at least three times a year. It is responsible for managing the AEFO's business in accordance with the responsibilities set out in the by-laws.

Executive Committee: The AEFO Executive Committee is composed of five individuals elected for a two-year term at the annual meeting: President, two Vice-Presidents and two advisors, in addition to the AEFO General Secretary (non-voting).

The presidency is a full-time position and its incumbent works at AEFO's provincial office.

The Executive Committee meets when convened by the AEFO President to deal with urgent matters.

Provincial standing committees: The committees of the Board of Directors are established to support the Board of Directors in its responsibilities.

The Board of Directors relies on the four committees to look into matters delegated to them as per their mandate and responsibilities and issue recommendations to the Board of Directors:

- Governance Committee
- Risk Management Committee
- Human Resources Committee
- Nominations and Awards Committee

The committees are composed of members of the Board of Directors and chaired by members of the Executive Committee. The committee members' terms are renewable on a yearly basis.

Local organization

Units: AEFO has 16 units across Ontario. As a way of organizing AEFO, the province is divided into 12 districts aligning with the territories covered by each French language district school board. All AEFO members employed within the same school board, as a member of the regular or occasional teachers' staff, are grouped into the same district unit.

Members whose union accreditation certificate AEFO holds are grouped into a separate unit from teachers' units.

Member services

Collective bargaining: AEFO is the bargaining agent for its members. It provides training to the bargaining teams and supports them throughout the bargaining process. A senior-level AEFO officer acts as a spokesperson at the bargaining table.

Management of collective agreements: AEFO and its units ensure that collective agreements are complied with and manage the adjudication of grievances for its members.

Other representation or support services

Union-related training: In addition to the questions arising from the application or interpretation of the collective agreement, AEFO, at its sole discretion, may offer representation services during investigations and criminal charges when the allegations or charges arise from or are related to the members' professional responsibilities while exercising their functions. It may also decide to offer representation services to a member who is the subject of a complaint filed with a professional order in Ontario. AEFO also supports its members who are the subject of a complaint with the Children's Aid Society when the complaint arises from or is related to the exercise of professional responsibilities of its members.

Professional relations services: AEFO defends the professional interests of its members with various partners in education and provides information and advice to its units. AEFO also develops resources for supporting members in their professional sphere.

Union-related training: AEFO provides a variety of training sessions to its members, on both professional and union-related matters. It also works together with other organizations to develop various training sessions and resources for its members.

District: OSSTF/FEESO is divided into 35 districts. Each district has a district executive, a district council, and district committees, paralleling those in the provincial organization. Each district also holds a district annual meeting. Districts are umbrella bodies that are made up of individual bargaining units.

Bargaining unit: The bargaining unit designates the OSSTF/FEESO organization of those members for whom OSSTF/FEESO holds bargaining rights under the appropriate legislation. A bargaining unit has a Constitution and Bylaws that are approved by a general meeting of the membership.

Branch: A bargaining unit may be divided into branches as determined by the bargaining unit.

Member services

Collective bargaining: OSSTF/FEESO provides information to assist local bargaining units when bargaining with their employer. If necessary, the provincial organization will assume negotiations on their behalf and with their assistance.

Education finance: Through the provincial Collective Bargaining Committee, districts and bargaining units are given information to assist in understanding education finance.

Educational services: Under the auspices of the Educational Services Committee, many research and professional educational projects are undertaken. Numerous conferences, seminars and workshops are offered to keep members and others abreast of current changes in education.

Pensions and benefits: The Pensions Officer provides advice and assistance to members regarding the Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan (OTPP) and the Ontario Municipal Employees' Retirement System (OMERS) as well as university pensions.

Computer/information technology: The provincial office provides information and personnel to assist local bargaining units in establishing appropriate communication processes through the use of information technology.

Public relations/political action: OSSTF/FEESO, through its professional staff and the Communications and Political Action Committee, provides ongoing advice and information on provincial and local communications and public relations.

Professional publications: Each member receives three issues per year of the official publication Education Forum. Other additional publications are made available to members. OSSTF issues every second week, a newsletter entitled Update, which keeps the membership informed.

Scholarships and bursaries: OSSTF/FEESO offers a number of scholarships and bursaries for its members and their families, to assist in their post-secondary education studies.

Educators Financial Group Inc.: The Educators Financial Group Inc. is a financial services company sponsored by OSSTF. It has registered and non-registered retirement savings plans available to members of Ontario's educational community and their families.

OTIP: The Ontario Teachers Insurance Plan provides group insurance benefits to bargaining units and individual insurance coverage to active and retired members.

RTOERO is the bilingual trusted voice on healthy, active living in the retirement journey.

This member organization welcomes those currently working in or retired from the broader education community. Members include early years professionals, teachers, school board employees, post-secondary sector professionals, private school teachers and workers, Ministry of Education employees and more.

Most of RTOERO's 80,000 members reside in Ontario, but members live in every part of Canada. The organization has 46 districts in Ontario and two in British Columbia.

RTOERO is Canada's largest non-profit group insurance for education retirees with more than 100,000 participants. Owned and directed by members, health plans include Extended Health Care, which includes 93 days of out-of-province/country travel coverage, Dental, and Semi-Private Hospital coverage. Retirees who wish to join the group health plans must be members of RTOERO.

RTOERO offers many member benefits, including a MemberPerks discount program through Venngo, group travel, award-winning Renaissance magazine and Liaison e-newsletter, annual Tax Tips, Pocket Planner calendar, bilingual services and francophone districts, $100,000 in annual donations to local charities and $37,500 annually in scholarships for family members. These are some of more than 100 member benefits. RTOERO advocates politically on matters of interest to its members.
